HALLOWEEN PLANSLegion To Move To Rooms
In The Speidel Block
Next Week.

Merchants and manufacturers of Salem will be asked to close their places of business at 11 a. m. on Armistice day, Saturday, Nov. 11, a three hour period out of respect for the most significant of the memorable events growing out of the great World war, according to action taken Monday evening by Charles H. Carey post, No. 55, American Legion.

The men of the legion are planning to start a big parade promptly at 1 p. m., and invite all patriotic and civic organizations to participate.

The legion commander, Rev. H. L. Miller, has started committees to work on plans for the Armistice day observance and for staging a Mardi Gras on Halloween Tuesday evening, Oct. 31. The latter event will be undertaken at the invitation of the Retail Merchants Board of the Salem Chamber of Commerce, and Secretary H. Parker Lowell was invited to address the meeting, which was the last to be held in the headquarters in the Schwartz building on Broadway as the post plans to move into its new rooms in the Speidel block on Main street next Monday.

The secretary assured the legionnaires that the merchants appreciated their willingness to help and explained that the Merchants Board had already voted to support the legion in its undertakings. Orville Hoover and Charles Haldi reported that they had been most cordially received at the last meeting of the Retail Merchants Board and urged the committeemen appointed by Commander Miller to go forward with their plans without delay. The committee chairmen will meet at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday in the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

JUSTICE W. R. DAY
QUITS, SUCCESSOR
MAY BE DEMOCRATSupreme Court Member To Devote Time To German Claims.

Washington, Oct. 24.—Justice William R. Day of the supreme court of the United States has resigned from the nation's highest legal tribunal. It was announced officially at the White House this afternoon. The resignation was accepted by President Harding and will take effect Nov. 14.

The resignation of Justice Day was expected in administration quarters ever since President Harding appointed him as umpire of the German American mixed claims commission which will adjudicate $400,000,000 in claims against Germany and as much in German claims, is of so wide a field as to necessitate his full time.

It is confidently believed here that the vacancy on the high court will be filled by the appointment of a Democrat. The court at present stands seven Republicans and only two Democratic members, due to the appointment of Chief Justice Taft and Justice Sutherland to places formerly held by Democrats.

It was officially announced at the White House that no successor has as yet been chosen but it is reported that Senator John K. Shields, a Democrat of Tennessee, is being favorably considered.

New Regulations Safeguard

Freedom To Import
Large Amounts.

Washington, Oct. 24.—New regulations, framed under the Daugherty ruling outlawing liquors from shipping in American waters, will safeguard the rights of foreign ships to possess abundant stocks of medicinal whiskey and will allow wet supplies in required volume to enter the United States from foreign diplomats, it was declared today at the treasury department.

Conferences between treasury and state department officers and representatives of the department of justice resulted today in a decision to permit complete freedom of action by foreign envoys in importing and transporting large amounts of liquor and wine for their embassies and legations at Washington.

The regulations today were ready or the signature of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, but he deferred signing them until some of their provisions were fully sanctioned by the president and his cabinet. The foreign liquor tangle again was a feature of his cabinet discussion today.

Later it became known that despite the rigid prohibitions of the Daugherty ruling and the regulations drawn for its strict enforcement, the president has directed subordinate officials of the government to proceed with caution until the United States

MAN SHOT PASTOR
AND CHOIR LEADER
SAYS EYE-WITNESSElderly Woman Says Slayer Was Accompanied By a Woman.

New Brunswick, N. J., Oct. 24.—A woman, who is said to have witnessed the killing of Rev. Dr. Edward W. Hall, rector of the Protestant Episcopal church of St. John the Evangelist, and the beautiful choir singer, Mrs. James Mills, revealed through an informant today that the shooting was done by a man but that there was a second woman on the scene.

The woman eyewitness, it is learned from an authoritative source, is Mrs. Annie Gibson, an elderly widow living in Hamilton rd, just off DeRussy lane, which flanks the spot where the bodies were found under a little crab apple tree.

According to the informant Mrs. Gibson was within a few yards of the spot when shooting began. Mrs. Gibson was so excited she could not remember how many shots she heard.

Mrs. Gibson, the informant said, distinctly heard a woman, believed to be Mrs. Mills, scream and utter the name of a man. The shooting was said to have taken place about 9 o'clock. As soon as Mrs. Gibson realized what had happened she fled from the scene.

Mrs. Gibson's presence on the scene was explained in a statement by the informant that she was in search of some corn that had been stolen from her farm the night before and which she had reason to believe had been secreted upon the Phillips farm where the tragedy took place.

Among those entered in the All-Ohio short story contest being conducted by a Cleveland newspaper is Florence Farr Pierce, of Lakewood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Farr, of Superior st, Salem. Her story, "The Sacrifice of Queen Anne," has already been published.

The contest is being conducted for amateur writers only and suitable prizes will be awarded winning stories selected by a trio of judges.

CLAIMS TAXATION
TAKES TWO-THIRDS OF NET EARNINGSMeans Lower Standard Of Living, R. B. Thompson
Tells Book Club.EXPLAINS STATE
TAX AMENDMENTSProvision Made To Prevent
Placing Great Burden
On Real Estate.

Today taxation—local, state, national—is taking directly in taxes paid or indirectly in higher prices paid for many commodities, 66 2/3 per cent of the net earnings of the people of Ohio.

That is the message R. B. Thompson brought to the Book club Monday afternoon. He was explaining the proposed state taxation amendment and the women seemed deeply interested in it.

"This means," Mr. Thompson explained, "a draft on past earnings, or savings, or a very seriously lowered standard of living—unless these greatly increased taxes return to us as individuals the protection and help which we would otherwise have provided for ourselves."

"You wonder why farmers are interested in taxation? Records show that up to Sept. 1, seven per cent of the farmers of Ohio had not paid their June taxes and 20 per cent had been compelled to borrow money at the bank to pay the June taxes."

Based On Property

"Taxes should be levied according to ability to pay. This is a principle accepted by practically all students of taxation as basic. When our present system of taxation was written into the constitution in 1851 the ownership of property was a fair measure of ability to pay, for practically all wealth was expressed in lands, buildings, farm equipment and other forms of visible property."

"The nine ineffectual attempts which have been made during the past 20 years to change our taxation system in Ohio have practically all centered about the idea that ownership of property was the one and only evidence of ability to pay."

"The classificationists have contended that certain forms of property called intangibles should not pay as high a rate as other forms, because it had little earning ability. Many have refused to return intangible property for taxation because they felt that it was being unfairly taxed."

The uniform rulers have contended that all property should be taxed alike according to value without regard for its earning ability and have insisted that money, stocks, notes, mortgages, bonds, etc., were as much property as houses and lots. The classificationist has countered with the claim that all these are not actually property but are merely evidences of property."

Oppose Classification

"The farm organizations and real estate boards have very generally opposed classification, while banking, investment, manufacturing and other interests have very generally supported classification. After the battle of 1919 when classification was defeated

Make Your Will
DO YOU read the bank advertising?

Some of the most interesting and ingenious bits of reading matter to be found anywhere are coming from the hands of the advertising men nowadays, and the bank advertising has come to hold its own with that of the department stores and the rest of the selling news that makes newspapers and magazines so entertaining.

"They Never Found His Will" announces a big bank in a large city, and tells a story of unnecessary difficulties. He had told his wife about having made a will, but it could not be found. He died after a short illness, leaving the wife and three children.

"The real property which, in the absence of a will, belongs to the children subject to the widow's dower, cannot be sold until the youngest comes of age, 19 years later, unless the mother goes through complicated court procedure. It is going to be difficult, in the interim, if not impossible, for her to educate and keep the three children on the insurance and the income from her third of the property.
Yet he meant to leave her in control of the property."

The moral drawn by the bank is—have your will drawn. It's a good plan.

All sorts of complications are likely to arise in case of sudden death, and minor children need to be protected. Wives, also, who have shared in the early struggles, ought to be assured their just share of the later rewards.

No man wants to leave his affairs in a tangle for his heirs to wrestle with, particularly if his means are modest. It might be said that the smaller the fortune, the greater need of a clear and explicit will.

Wills aren't for old people in their dotage to make. They are for young people to take care of right along with the annual budget and other means of keeping affairs in order.

• "Wet" Issues Vary

SINCE votes bearing on prohibition will have attention it is well to get straight just what the propositions which will be submitted to the electors in various states means. California and Massachusetts, under referendum provisions, will vote on approval or rejection of the state probihibition codes passed by the legislatures. Thus the issue in both states is not of beer and wine, but whether the state shall assist the federal government in enforcing the eighteenth amendment.

In Illinois there is a referendum which amounts only to a straw vote determining whether people of that commonwealth favor the loosening by congress of the provisions of the Volstead law.

In Ohio the question is different from any of the other states. As has been stated heretofore it is an amendment to the constitution of Ohio which would legalize wine and beer on which the electors will express their will.

Ohio was "dry" before the eightteenth amendment took effect, and should this proposition carry it would repeal the state prohibition on beer and wine only, but, of course, could not affect the federal amendment.

These various votes will have significance merely as an expression of present opinion on prohibition, but in no way will affect the operation of the eighteenth amendment. They will not legalize what is now illegal, nor will they bring back the outlawed saloon, no matter how they terminate.

WRITER'S NAME WILL LIVE

Superficial Critics Have Misjudged
the Work Given to the World
by Sir Walter Raleigh.

It is something of a paradox that the last work of Sir Walter Raleigh,
"The War in the Air," should have been the history of a great modern adventure, written upon a large scale.

To those who knew Raleigh, whose death a vast number of friends and disciples are deploring, only by his works, he may have seemed somewhat detached from the life about him, and intent upon the niceties and elegancies of style.

The most of his books deal with the past, in which the superficial critic might think Raleigh was finding an escape from reality. The superficial critic of course would have been wrong.

Like all good writers, Raleigh had an intense interest in all that was about him. Whatever he read he put always to the test of life, and thus found the best, the only commentary for the books which he loved full well. From "Musings Without Method" in Blackwood's Magazine.

He Had Help.

An alumnus of Radcliff was helping in the recent drive to raise money for the Radcliff endowment fund by selling soap, says the Indianapolis News.
She employed two small boys to take the soap to the houses of some of her friends. Little Johnnie, with the boxes under each arm, marched up to one door and knocked.

"Why are you selling the soap," inquired the lady of the house.
"To raise $3,000,000 for Radcliff."

"Three million dollars! And are you trying to raise it all by yourself?"
"No," came the quick response,
"there's another little boy helping me."

ARMIES OF WOMEN WARRIORS

Amazons, According to Ancient Writers, Were Fierce Fighters—Some Records of Their Deeds.

According to ancient writers, the Amazons were a nation of female warriors, who allowed no men to live among them, but marched to battle under command of their queen. They held occasional intercourse with the men of neighboring states. If boys were born to them, they either sent them to their fathers or killed them.
But the girls were brought up for war, and their breasts were burned off that they might not be prevented from bending the bow. From this custom they received the name of Amazons, which is "breastless."

The Asiatic Amazons are said to have at one time subdued the whole of Asia, and to have built Smyrna, the city recently captured and burned
by the Turks, and other cities.

Other nations of Amazons mentioned by the ancients were the Scythian Amazons, who in aftertimes married among the neighboring Scythians, and the African Amazons, who subdued the Gorgons and Atlantes, marched through Egypt and Arabia, and founded their capital on the Lake Tritonis, but were annihilated by Heracles.

CITY LOSES FIRST PLEA IN COURT TO MOVE STREET CARS

Temporary Injunction Is Refused, Hearing Date Not Announced.

East Liverpool, Oct. 24.—City council's first move to force operation of street cars was temporarily checked Monday when Judge J. G. Moore declined to grant a temporary injunction requested by City Solicitor Perry L. Rigby an Atty. Fred Helm, Youngstown lawyer retained to assist in the fight to compel the traction company to resume operation under the terms of the franchise and the award of the arbitration board.

Solicitor Rigby appeared before Judge Moore at Lisbon with the petition drawn by himself and Atty. Helm, supplementing and amending the document filed before the court last May, when a temporary order was granted against the company.

The main requests of the supplementary petition were:

To enjoin the company from removing any equipment of cars from the city pending adjustment of the controversy.

To compel recognition by the company of the wage award handed down by the board of arbitrators to the members of Division 52 of the carmen's union.

While the judge permitted the solicitor to file the new papers with the clerk of courts, no definite date was set for a hearing on the permanent injunction, and authorities expressed doubt if the case would be reached on the calendar before the general election Nov. 7, at which time the citizens will vote on the initiated ordinance granting utilities control and increased fares.

E. PALESTINE MEETS SALEM HIGH HERE

With the Niles game out of the way and added to the victory list, Salem High school's football squad is preparing for their next step toward the county championship.

The opposition for the Red and Black here next Saturday will be the East Palestine eleven. This game will likely decide the county title for 1922 as but one more county team remains on the schedule—East Liverpool—and due to the crippled condition of the Blue and White aggregation, little difficulty is expected in keeping the slate clean in this encounter.

East Palestine will furnish plenty of opposition for Coach Vivian's grid-ers Saturday. The visiting outfit is being glorified especially for this game as it is practically conceded that the county title hinges on the result.

Salem will be able to go into the fray in first class condition as not a regular is on the injured list at present. East Palestine will be greatly strengthened by the return of Chney to the lineup but will likely be without the services of Hay, quarterback, who has an injured shoulder.

The Red and Black has defeated four county teams to date—Wellsville, Lisbon, Lectoria and Columbiana—while East Palestine has met but one county eleven, that being Columbiana.

Saturday's contest is expected to draw a capacity crowd as the visiting eleven will be accompanied by a large delegation of rooters. The game will be started at 2:30.

Vest Buttons Fly As American Men Expand WaistLine

Chicago, Oct. 24.—American men are getting fatter to the detriment of vest buttons and longevity, according to a survey just completed, the National Life Insurance company announced today.

The expansion of the waist line, according to this survey is due to overeating and to indulgence in sweets. "Always Leave the table hungry," is a motto suggested to offset the conditions.

"Men who used to treat guests, friends and customers at bars now entertain them at meals, buying food, pastries and sweets and other items that produce obesity," the report said.

Fat induces heart trouble, the announcement said, and except in the rarest instance persons who live to ripe old age are thin.

SOCIETY

Benefit Social

The first of a series of benefit parties was given at the Christian church Monday night, the proceeds of which will go to the building fund for the Mary Lyons school, being built by the Christian Missionary societies at Paraguay, South America.

The church parlors were beautifully arranged for the occasion in keeping with the Halloween season. The guests were met at the church entrance and escorted through the chamber of horrors and upon their arrival in the parlor each guest was made welcome by friendly ghosts who showed them about the building and pointed out the beauties and mysteries of the decorations. The fortune teller was kept busy and mirth reigned supreme.

The program opened with a grand march of witches, ghosts and the guests in line. Games and contests were directed by Miss Paula Field. During the refreshment period vocal selections were given by the girls of Mrs. Harry Clay's class accompanied at the piano by Miss Ruth Zeigler.

About $40 was cleared which with the proceeds of future benefits will be immediately turned over to the building fund.

Simplicity

Mrs. Casey was calling upon Mrs. Callahan, and soon the talk turned to the daughter of the latter, who had but recently returned from school in another town.

"There's a plain girl for ye," said Mrs. Callahan, "absolutely no airs, in spite of the fact that she has been at a finishing school. Nothing stuck up about Mary. She's unanimous to everybody and never keeps a girl waiting. No, Mrs. Casey, she just runs down, non de plume as she is!"—Ex. change.

Puzzled Father Never Saw The "Twins."

Mr. & Mrs. Frank McNally

One of the most mysterious cases in recent years has cropped out at Hammond, Ind., where Frank McNally, 55, accused his wife of the murder of their twins. Mrs. McNally's defense was that her husband, eager for children, forced her to nurse dolls and pretend they were flesh and blood and that she was never the mother of real children.

SENTENCES BOY JAIL BREAKERS

Ralph Ralston and Raymond Pollock, the East Liverpool boys who were charged with being parties to the robbery of the Chambers store in that city, were given their sentences by Judge Lodge Riddle of the juvenile court today.

Ralston goes to the Mansfield Reformatory and Pollock to the Lancaster Industrial school. After being arrested and brought to jail the boys made their escape, but were recaptured. Ralston is 17 years of age and Pollock but 15.

Attorney Ben Bennett made a plea to get a suspended sentence for young Pollock but Judge Riddle refused to extend any clemency. The terms of sentence are indeterminate, depending upon the behavior of the prisoners.

Ohio People Have Learned the Lesson of Thrift.

DEPOSITS SMASH RECORDS

Buckeye State Banks Shown to Be in Better Financial Condition Than Ever Before—Julian Assisting Democrats in State Campaign—Daughter Punctures a Canard—Funds For Care of State Wards.

Columbus, Oct. 24.—Hard times and industrial depression apparently have not greatly affected banks and building and loan companies of Ohio, according to the report just issued by State Bank Superintendent Scott, who asserts Ohio banks now are in better financial condition than ever before in the history of the state.

The report shows that the 752 banks under state supervision have total resources amounting to $1,548,667,710, nearly $30,000,000 over the previous high record mark, which was reached in December, 1920. Deposits of the banks total $1,327,446,891, which is more than $58,000,000 over the high mark of $1,269,000,000.

"These figures show, beyond doubt, that basic economic and industrial conditions are vastly improved, and that the business outlook is decidedly encouraging," says Scott.

The report shows that loans and discounts have increased nearly $25,000,000 since the previous report of June 30, having now reached the figure of $961,144,881. Real estate loans made to farmers and home owners increased $29,524 during the year and holdings of United States bonds and securities increased $14,455,624, while capital stock increased $1,351,634, according to the report.

On the other hand, Scott points out bank liabilities show a marked decrease, money and bonds borrowed by them having decreased $964,113 since June. Rediscunts decreased $452,928 and bills payable with federal reserve bank were reduced $399,657.

That Ohioans have learned the lesson of thrift is proven by the fact that savings accounts and time certificates reached the record breaking total of $676,980,373, more than $3,000,000 over reported before for such deposits," the report says.

A total of $862,251.44 was collected during the year ending June 30 and deposited in the state treasury for the care of inmates of various state institutions, according to the yearly report just issued by J. D. Holmes, state agent in charge of funds for the support of patients in hospitals. The amount is the largest ever collected by the state and exceeds the collection of last year by $256,630.72, according to Holmes.

The various institutions received: Athens, $35,558.27; Cleveland, $58,677.22; Columbus, $78,568.85; Dayton, $11,367.42; Longview, $61,232.83; Marion, $82,575.71; Toledo, $86,706.32; Gallipolis, $22,537.85; Lima, $15,937.20; feeble-minded $69,192.18; Mt. Vernon, $9,997.50.

Despite the pending vote on the light wine and beer amendment to the Ohio constitution or perhaps because of it, prohibition officials are not letting up on plans for making Ohio bone dry.

Federal Prohibition Commissioner Haynes met in Columbus this week with State Director Russell, Judge E. L. Porterfield, recently appointed to the Ohio-Michigan-Indiana division of general prohibition agents, and a number of agents and prohibition enforcement officials, to discuss with them what has been accomplished, and to lay plans for furtherance of the work.

The problem of dealing with the bootlegger who is making booze of body rubs and other medicated alcohol, was the chief matter of discussion. This new form of moonshiner has the prohibition agents guessing, and keeping tabs on these fellows is said to be a real task, in so much as they are able to distill their product with comparatively little expense, without the aid of elaborate distilling plants and, above all, without resorting to the use of mash, the smell of which made it easy for officers to trace the source of the liquor supply.

Prosecuting attorneys of the various counties of the state have had a new burden added to their life by the passage of the law authorizing the appointment of a fuel administrator, according to a ruling given out by State Fuel Administrator Neal. The administrator will not attempt any prosecutions for violations of the law, nor will it call on the attorney general's office for help in that respect, according to Neal. Violations of this law come within the province of the prosecuting attorney of the county in which the offenses occurred and the names of the profiteers will be furnished the prosecutor when such information is lodged with the fuel administrator, Neal said.

"We will, of course, co-operate in every way possible in such prosecutions, but when local authorities dis-

GOVERNMENT WILL LOSE MILLIONS IN WAR-TIME FRAUDS

War Contract Profiteers Covered Up Tracks, Report Says.

Washington, Oct. 24.—Several billions of dollars paid out by the government on fraudulently made war contracts never will be recovered, because in the thousands of cases representing those vast payments dishonesty and conspiracy can not be proved, it was declared officially at the department of justice today.

The department of justice admits that profiteers, in many instances in actual league with officials of the government, covered up their tracks so well that government agents are unable to clinch cases against them. Many of these cases involve war department and shipping board contracts. In many instances the litigation has been brought to the grand jury stage, but has ended there with the discovery that lawyers for the defense had cleverly blocked action.

The attorney general reports show, however, that in the drive against profiteers 400 separate cases, many of them of great magnitude and representing hundreds of millions in money paid out wrongfully by the government, are now undergoing process of liquidation, in civil or criminal actions in the federal courts.

The department predicts that most of these cases will be terminated successfully for the government with recovery of a substantial part of the sums involved.

The government's greatest loss on war contracts, the department declared, resulted from improperly made contracts wherein the interests of the government were not protected. There also were improvident settlements made by various government agencies, including some of the independent agencies that were set up hurriedly by war necessity.

It now develops that in some of the more important cases which the government expected to press all records which might shed light upon such transactions have been destroyed.

In a considerable number of cases it is suspected that men who have occupied important posts in government service, conspired with contractors to destroy evidence of their wrong-doing.

VOTERS FEARING OHIO DEMOCRATS PLOT TO LEAGUE ISSUE FOR 1924

Columbus, O.—(Special.)—Ohio voters are alarmed over insistent injection of the League of Nations issue into the campaign this year and are much concerned over impending issue of the league issue by the Democrats in 1924, should they succeed in gaining control of Ohio this year and in changing Republican control of Congress. Voters are displaying great interest in the Democratic plot to bury the league issue this year in order to raise its ghost in 1924, so as to force the United States into that "Body of Death," the League of Nations.

Republican candidates returning to state headquarters here after a week of campaigning over the state and direct contact with the public report this condition existing as shown by their observations and in talks with voters during the week ending Saturday, Oct. 14.

Secretary of Labor Davis, who came to Ohio direct from Washington and made three speeches in the state Saturday, was met at the Union Station here Saturday night en route to Chicago from Nelsonville by Republican state campaign headquarters leaders, Davis said.

Plot Astounds Davis.
"I was astounded to find during my brief visit to your state today the voters evincing intense interest in the possible effect the Democratic ruse regarding the League of Nations issue in this campaign would have on the United States situation in 1924 in event of Democratic success in Ohio this year."

"I find voters are fearful of the result should our Democratic friends succeed in putting through their plot this year in endeavor to force United States membership in the league in 1924. It seems almost incredible after the overwhelming repudiation of the league issue in 1920. But as the Democratic party this year is wholly devoid of any real issue, they are plotting with typical guile to befuddle the voters in the hope of gaining control of state governments and Congress this year and the national government in 1924. Then they will attempt to put us into the league."

"As President Harding is absolutely against the United States becoming allied by treaties, pacts or covenants which would plunge America into the boiling pot of Europe's clashing interests, voters realize that to continue the Republican policy of guarding American interests and endorsement of the administration is necessary at the polls in Ohio this year."

"Our industrial situation is returning almost to normal, employment is general and the 5,000,000 out of work found by the Republican administration March 4, 1921, are now practically nil. The Republican administration has started the greatest era of prosperity in the history of the nation. This is safeguarded by a protective tariff."

"Continuance of normal conditions and development of prosperity is dependent upon voters endorsing the Republican administration this year. I have no doubt the people of Ohio will return the Republican congressional delegation, elect Colonel Thompson governor and Congressman Fess senator in November."

Thompson Outlines Situation.
Colonel Thompson, as a result of his observations last week in his campaign for governor, made this statement:

"There can be no question that farming interest of Ohio have a dependable estimate of the splendid program of legislation put through by the administration which saved American agricultural interests from bankruptcy, after the war. They realize also how their interests are benefited by the protective tariff enacted in the interests of American producers and wage earners. The farmers and voters generally are vitally interested in the success of the Republican ticket in Ohio this year, both for the good of their state and nation."

"The campaign to date has brought home to the voting public the fact that Ohio must endorse the administration of her greatest living son, President Harding, by election of a Republican governor, senator and congressional delegation. My observations of the past week show the public realizes continued prosperity depends upon Republican success in November, insuring continuance of the Republican policy of more business in government to create more and better business generally."

"Voters For Harding," Says Fess.
Congressman Fess in his tour of the state campaigning for election as Republican United States senator from Ohio found general sentiment overwhelming for Republican support this year. He said:

"I find a quiet and fixed determination among voters of Ohio in both parties to approve of and back up Republican administration accomplishments in rebuilding a Democratic wreck. This will result in an overwhelming Republican victory in November. I find no indication the public has changed its attitude toward the League of Nations. The voters are realizing they must support the Republican ticket this year if they would prevent the Democrats from raising from the dead the body of the league as an issue in 1924."

Mr. and Mrs. John Culp of near Lewistown called on Leetonia relatives Saturday.

Mrs. Ella Martin is home after being in Cleveland several days where she attended the funeral of a sister-in-law, Mrs. Thomas Logan.

Mrs. John Stiller visited her parents in Washingtonville Saturday.

Henry E. Mayer of Poland called on his mother, Mrs. Mary A. Mayer, Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Wilbur Mellinger is enjoying a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bream of Gettysburg, Pa.

Washington, Oct. 24—The supreme court of the United States today sustained the government in its contention that provisions of the Harrison narcotic act prohibiting the sale of morphine and cocaine applies generally to all persons.

In its opinion the supreme court reversed a lower court which had held the law applied only to those persons who were obligated to register and to pay a tax as drug dealers. The government appealed from an adverse decision of the federal district court for Utah.

Acute Indigestion
For Over Two Years

"For over two years I suffered from acute indigestion," says Arthur L. Reeves, secretary of the Austinburg Fuel & Light Company, Ohio. "Frequently calling in a physician but getting only temporary relief. Acting on the advice of a friend I took Dr. Orth's Stomach Remedy regularly until the first package was used up. I then procured another package of which I have taken only an occasional dose for a real or fancied condition of acid stomach or heartburn. For seven months now I have been entirely free from any attack of acute indigestion and can eat anything I want with no fear of bad results. In case of sour stomach which is sometimes quite annoying, one dose will be found worth the price of the package. If the above statement of facts will help to call the attention of other sufferers to the merits of Dr. Orth's Stomach Remedy I shall be glad to have you use it." Signed Arthur L. Reeves.

They all say the same. For 75 cents you can get a large box of Dr. Orth's Stomach Remedy, a great physician's greatest stomach prescription, at J. H. Lease Drug Co., Bolger & French, Floding's drug store and all good druggists.

What Is Earth Like Inside?
Old ideas in regard to the heat on the unknown inside of the earth may have to be revised, if the inconclusive evidence adduced by temperature tests in 107 deep wells in the United States by Dr. C. E. Van Orstrand, physical geologist of the United States Geological survey, should be confirmed by later investigations. According to this expert, the steady increase in temperature, so great that a miner could not live at a depth of one mile, appears to be less rapid a little beyond that depth. Combined with the fact that mathematicians have not yet found the law of distribution of temperature from the surface to the center of the earth, this makes uncertain the estimation of some scientists that the heat at the center is as high as 180,000 degrees Fahrenheit. Observations at a depth of about 7,500 feet have been taken, but Dr. Van Orstrand has not been able to carry his investigations further.—Science Service.

Narcotic Act Upheld By Highest Tribunal

Washington, Oct. 24—The supreme court of the United States today sustained the government in its contention that provisions of the Harrison narcotic act prohibiting the sale of morphine and cocaine applies generally to all persons.

In its opinion the supreme court reversed a lower court which had held the law applied only to those persons who were obligated to register and to pay a tax as drug dealers. The government appealed from an adverse decision of the federal district court for Utah.

Acute Indigestion For Over Two Years

"For over two years I suffered from acute indigestion," says Arthur L. Reeves, secretary of the Austinburg Fuel & Light Company, Ohio. "Frequently calling in a physician but getting only temporary relief. Acting on the advice of a friend I took Dr. Orth's Stomach Remedy regularly until the first package was used up. I then procured another package of which I have taken only an occasional dose for a real or fancied condition of acid stomach or heartburn. For seven months now I have been entirely free from any attack of acute indigestion and can eat anything I want with no fear of bad results. In case of sour stomach which is sometimes quite annoying, one dose will be found worth the price of the package. If the above statement of facts will help to call the attention of other sufferers to the merits of Dr. Orth's Stomach Remedy I shall be glad to have you use it." Signed Arthur L. Reeves.

They all say the same. For 75 cents you can get a large box of Dr. Orth's Stomach Remedy, a great physician's greatest stomach prescription, at J. H. Lease Drug Co., Bolger & French, Floding's drug store and all good druggists.

What Is Earth Like Inside?
Old ideas in regard to the heat on the unknown inside of the earth may have to be revised, if the inconclusive evidence adduced by temperature tests in 107 deep wells in the United States by Dr. C. E. Van Orstrand, physical geologist of the United States Geological survey, should be confirmed by later investigations. According to this expert, the steady increase in temperature, so great that a miner could not live at a depth of one mile, appears to be less rapid a little beyond that depth. Combined with the fact that mathematicians have not yet found the law of distribution of temperature from the surface to the center of the earth, this makes uncertain the estimation of some scientists that the heat at the center is as high as 180,000 degrees Fahrenheit. Observations at a depth of about 7,500 feet have been taken, but Dr. Van Orstrand has not been able to carry his investigations further.—Science Service.

cover profiteering, responsibility for prosecution will be directly up to the county prosecutor. Under the fuel control law the county prosecutors have full authority to act," said the ruling.

What once seemed to have been a rift in the Democratic party, namely the aloofness of W. A. Julian of Cincinnati, who ran against Frank B. Willis for the United States senate, in 1920, apparently has been healed, and Julian now is on the stump fighting for the entire Democratic ticket.

Julian claims he never was off the party and was merely too busy to get into the fight, but that now his business is in such shape that he can devote some time to the party, and he is keeping the state headquarters hard pressed to give him enough speaking dates to keep him busy. The place nor the time is of little consequence, and a half dozen speeches a day mean nothing to him, even if he is required to jump half way across the state to make them.

Democrats in Columbus have doped out a very ingenious reason for Julian's activity. They say he has read the handwriting on the wall and sees the election of Pomerene as a practical certainty. Pomerene's election, they say, he figures will make the senator a sizable figure in the 1924 Democratic convention that selects a candidate for president. Pomerene's selection as the candidate and his ultimate election, should the Democratic party win, of course would create a vacancy in the senate, and Julian, they say, would not be averse to having the state legislature confer the toga on him.

This recalls the fact that Pomerene was the last senator from Ohio elected under the old rule of the state assembly electing the senator. The direct election of senators came into effect after his election. Should such an event occur, as the Democrats say Julian foresees, Ohio would stand in the novel position of having both senators, accidental senators, and both selected to fill the unexpired term of a president. Willis was appointed to fill the unexpired term of President Harding and later was elected to succeed himself.

Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty has given Republicans food for thought. Early in the week some politician was responsible for a story alleged to have come from Daugherty to the effect that President Harding would be a candidate for a second term. It was a little early for such a statement to be given out, but was taken up by the press and spread on the front page, despite the fact that very few, if any, had entertained any doubts as to the president desiring a second term.

Now, however, Daugherty denies having issued any such statement and declares the proposition of the president being a candidate has not been given any consideration, and this statement leads some of them to wonder whether or not he will be a candidate.

The capital of Ohio, at least, is being given a two-day rest from the ravings and ranting of politicians and candidates, for even politics, that has held the public eye and ear for the past two weeks, has been submerged in the general interest in the dedication of the athletic stadium at Ohio State university, giving to the Ohio school one of the greatest, if not the greatest, athletic field in the country.

In connection with the opening of the new stadium, heads of various departments are issuing statements in regard to future plans for their departments, not the least interesting of which to the people of the state generally is the announcement of the university architect in regard to the future building program of the school.

The old athletic field, which is rendered useless by the erection of the $1,000,000 stadium, is to be used as a site for three new buildings for the college of education, according to the announcement made by Joseph N. Bradford, university architect.

Bradford's statement says the school faces an architectural problem, as well as an educational one, and asserts the solution of the problem lies in the grouping of buildings according to their related work.

Referring to current warnings by public men that there is danger that people may some time starve because of the inability of agriculture to produce enough food, Dr. Henry C. Taylor, chief of federal bureau of agricultural economics, told Ohio agricultural agents at a meeting here that the problem before the American farmer is not the holding of the population down to the food supply, but the holding of the food supply down to the demands of the population.

"We should not be blind to immediate needs," said Dr. Taylor. "Food of many kinds abounds in such quantities, and prices at the farm are so low that millions of farm men and women are wringing their hands because they can not sell their products for enough to meet their immediate demands."

In recent months the increased cost of transferring farm products from one part of the country to another and the increased cost of shipping manufactured products to the farming district has greatly discouraged commercial agriculture. The farmer is not confronted with the problem of speeding up to increase production, but on the other hand his problem is that of reducing expenses and adjusting his produce to a market which is not taking his crops at a price that enables him to buy the things he needs."

Claims Taxation Takes Two-Thirds Of Net Earnings

all these interests attempted to get together and as a consequence agreed that all had been more or less mistaken and had failed to recognize ability to pay as the correct basis for taxation.

"They found that in the various states ten separate forms of taxation are in use to a greater or less degree the straight property tax, a modified form of single (or land) tax, income, inheritance, production, franchise, gross receipts, license, excise and specific taxes.

"It was decided that as there may be advantages in trying several different systems of taxation in a state of such diversified interests as Ohio, the first step was to amend the constitution and abolish the present rigid restrictions.

"But to avoid the possibility of any legislature dumping tax limit of ten onto real estate and visible property a maximum tax limit of 15 mills was provided, in the amendment initiated.

"This is known as the tax limitation amendment (though some erroneously refer to it as the classification amendment) and if adopted will open the way to taxation reform and home rule in Ohio. It does not provide for any specific system of taxation but merely restricts the amount of taxes which may be obtained from property.

Debt Limitation
A companion amendment also was prepared and will likewise appear on the ballot this fall. It is known as the debt limitation amendment. It recognizes that Ohio taxing districts are rushing into debt at an alarming rate and places some check on the legislature and taxing officials. It forbids borrowing money for running expenses, or issuing bonds for a longer period than the probable life of the improvement or acquisition and in no event longer than 40 years.

"The municipal debt of Warren, Youngstown, Canton, Alliance and Salem is startling. Last year 77 cents out of every dollar of revenue was taken in Salem to pay back debts and interest. Ohio has been called the "paradise of the money lender" and certain students of economics refer to Ohio cities as "committing civic suicide" in the matter of mounting debt and government cost.

"In the past five years the increase in the cost of government in Ohio has been: Townships, 43 per cent; counties, 61 per cent; cities and villages, 79 per cent; highways, 110 per cent; schools, 130 per cent.

"All this means we must either greatly increase our tax rates on property, or find new sources of revenue, or limit debt incurring and government cost.

"The two amendments proposed this year will open the way to increase revenue while at the same time protecting homes and farms and intelligently restricting the tendency to rush into debt."

Why the Nation Demands Calumet

—because it has more than the ordinary leavening strength; it raises millions of bakings every day to a light perfectly baked perfection that cannot be equaled.

—because it contains white-of-egg—the vital element that gives the housewives protection against using a baking powder that has lost its original leavening strength. It assures light, tender, tasteful things every time you bake.

—because it is economical—pure, sure and wholesome.

That's why the sale of Calumet is over 150% greater than that of any other baking powder.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 ounces. Some baking powders come in 12 ounce instead of 16 ounce cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.
